The Future of Itch Relief

The first and only second generation JAK inhibitor for dogs

Rapidly effective

- Significant reduction in itch 2 hours after first dose
- For the treatment of pruritus associated with allergic dermatitis including atopic dermatitis in dogs
- For the treatment of inflammation and clinical manifestations of atopic dermatitis in dogs

Proven safety and efficacy

- At least 10X more selective⁺ for JAK1, the primary driver of itch and inflammation
- High selectivity for JAK 1 minimises interference with beneficial functions of other JAKs
- Allows adequate response to vaccination when dosed at 3X maximum recommended dose
- Well tolerated in dogs from 6 months of age

Simple and convenient

- Once daily dosing from day 1
- Broadest age and weight range – the only JAK inhibitor for use in dogs from 6 months of age

⁺Over the other JAK enzymes in in vitro assays.

Numelvi is administered once daily at mealtime
